Mediation Certification Programme

Still not familiarised with mediation? Wake up, it's XXI century!

You can experience plenty kinds of reactions to a concept of mediation. Some people are excited and think it is a breakthrough when it comes to a dispute resolution, some are sceptical and consider everyone interested in this field as simply naive. Who is right? – no-one knows!

However, one thing is sure. Mediation is spreading and is becoming a word-wide phenomenon. After a while polish legal society will realise that no matter if they like it or not, a set of skills needed for practising mediation will be required from everyone who wants to be seen as a competent problem solver, ergo a good lawyer.

Being well aware of the circumstances, JU and SOLVO have collaborated together to at least give a chance to people from Poland to experience what true mediation and negotiation training actually means!

MCP is, for many, one in a life time chance to participate in a comprehensive training, conducted solely in English, delivered from uncontested authority figures from all over the World!

Mediation
Certification
Programme

Basic Mediation Certification Programme

Date: 16-20 September 2017 Duration: 40 hours/ 5 days (9.00 a.m. – 7.00 p.m.)

Language: English

Number of participants: 50 persons.

Methodology: Informative sessions, simulations, interactive exercises, case study, Q&A.

Recognition of skills: Certificate of completion.

Venue: Faculty of Law and Administration, Jagiellonian University in Krakow, ul. Krupnicza 33a.

If you enroll in the training you will have a unique opportunity to become qualified mediator with international background.

Our programme is drafted on highly acknowledged international standards. The training is delivered by recognized professionals with teaching experience. They have done mediation all around the world and provide their expertise during a 40-hour training in Kraków.

Within the course of the training, participants will be familiarized with theory of mediation, knowledge of mediation principles, mediation process, roles of people present at the mediation table and differences between mediation and other dispute resolution methods.

However, this is not a lecture programme but an interactive training. Each participant will experience mock mediation sessions during which they will have a chance to mediate real case, as well as present their opening statement. Everyone will be given individual feedback by our experts. Each lecture will end with Q&A.

Mediation Certification Programme

Certificate of Completion will confirm attendance of a 40-hour mediator training. Under polish law, having such education may form a basis for an application to court to become court mediator.

Please note, that presence during all five days is obligatory. Upon request, subject to special circumstances, one absence may be excused.

Fluency in English is essential to be able to participate in the Programme. However, during the five days you will acquire more confidence. So be sure, that once you have completed the training, mediating and negotiating in English will no longer be any problem!

Richard Calkins

(INADR, Drake Law School)

Professor Richard Calkins graduated from Dartmouth College and Northwestern law school. He served as a law clerk to a federal appellate judge for 2 years and then joined a major law firm in Chicago. In 1969, he formed his own Law Firm where he practiced in antitrust law until 1980, when he became dean of the Drake University

Law School. During his tenure as Dean he was responsible for creating the college mock trial program in 1985. In the first year, eight schools and 12 teams participated. This year over 640 team from over 400 schools participate throughout the United States.

His interest in mediation began in 1988. Over the years has completed over 2000. He has also trained close to 1000 lawyers in mediation throughout the United States. In 2000 he began a mediation program which allows both undergraduate and law students to participate in mock mediations. Emphasis in these Tournaments has been the training as well as bringing students around the world to network and share ideas and interests. The outgrowth of this program has been to hold tournaments in Australia, India, Ukraine, Lithuania, Greece, London, Dublin and the of course United States.

On a personal note, the thing that pleases him the most is the fact that these tournaments bring together the very brightest students in the world, who are the future. To see them interact, become friends and colleagues and be dedicated to creating an awareness of mediation worldwide makes his years of effort worthwhile.
